'Jihad' called to stop election cheats

MANILA CITY—ACTIVISTES IN LARAO DEL SUR have called for a "jihad" (holy war) against electoral fraud in the face of the continuing refusal by officials of the Commission on Elections (Comelec) to hand over the sixth copy of election returns (ERs) from precincts to the National Citizens' Movement for Free Elections (NAMFREL).

This demand is a challenge to officials who have cheated during the May 11 mid-term polls, and joining some precincts in filing a petition to the Supreme Court to stop the Comelec from releasing the sixth copy of election returns.

Bayanihan Daling, president of the National Citizens' Movement for Free Elections (NAMFREL), said there was a need to stop the Comelec from releasing the sixth copy of election returns to the public.

Poisoned toothpaste believed from China

BEIJING—A 194-month-old infant in southern China has been found to have ingested a substance, believed to be toothpaste, from China, but the source of the substance is still unknown, officials there said. Police said the product appeared to have originated in China.

"Our preliminary investigation is that it came from China, but we don't know the exact quantity yet," said Huang Dapeng, Beijing's deputy director of customs. "We are still checking all the goods imported to see if there could be similar dangers."

Some of the toothpaste, which entered the market in the first half of 2011, was imported from the Republic of China, officials said. The toothpaste was found in the stomach of the infant, who was found dead in a hospital in Guangdong province. A preliminary report said the infant had been found with the toothpaste in his stomach.

ELEKSYON 2007

Technology powered news reporting

Smart Communications Inc. (SMART), wireless subsidiary of Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company (PLDT), teams up with GMA7 this election season to bring the public "ELEKSYON 2007." This strategic partnership combines mobile and telecommunication services with GMA7's all-media expertise.

Nokia N95 units, powered by SMART 3G, were assigned to GMA7 reporters stationed in multiple remote sites nationwide. Reporters armed with SMART 3G phones can do live reporting and send video for playback at a later time. Reporters can report anytime, anywhere.

SMART 3G was very helpful in the major coverage because each reporter had the ability to disengage from their camera crews and still managed to capture developments on video.

SMART's Mobile Eye technology likewise proved to be beneficial in reporting from far-flung locations. "Kung may breaking news at wala kayo dun sa site, you can still get footage from the Mobile Eye straight to your 3G phone," says GMA7 producers.

The partnership between two industry pioneers is as commendable as their end goal - serving the Filipino people by delivering the truth as it unfolds.

Enrich a person's values and you can solve poverty

By Tina Aceto-Durante

"IT WILL NEVER HIDE."

This was what well-meaning friends from a religious and conservative old overseas development window from U.S. California who also thought the idea of solving the pressing problem of poverty by enriching a person's spirituality is valid.

"They can work hard and the money shall come good," they said.

But Caldeira told them she was not in a hurry.

She believed that her spiritualized people could be better than in a way that others are, people in development have been told to do.

Then she put up the Center for Community Transformation in 2002 with the help of the area and people who also believed that development could be best achieved by spiritualizing the people, rather than by materialism, such as prostitution, crime, drugs, and other vices.

CCCT's program was simple: help out the poor in the spiritualized state of the area, and send them through their ing and overconfidence by making them part of a Christian community.

It is hoped that by strengthening their values, and keeping those values alive through constant communication with community members, the work and other goals will be a better-organized position to make a success out of their business since they will be guided by religious values.

"I believe that often development strategies have not worked because people's hearts have

An Emerging Business Landscape

As the "Home of Passionate Minds", the business component plays a very significant role in the rise of the new CBD, Bonifacio Global City. Amidst lush green, eye-catching public art, unique retail shops and dining places, some of the country's top businesses, including emerging Filipino-owned corporations and multinational corporations are setting up shop and enjoying the unique, live-work-play experience offered by Bonifacio Global City. Currently, Bonifacio Global City has retail opening and planned office building projects covering a gross floor area of 332,760 sqm as of March 2007, from all the companies and business within the city's business landscape include the BSM Center, United Capital, SunLife, Sun Life Philippines, Del Monte Philippines, the Makati Real Estate, Regus/Team, First, BSM, and Community Investments. "Other companies who have also chosen Bonifacio Global City as their new address are GE Money, GE Philippines, Intel Philippines and Sony," adds Jay Rivera, Head of Commercial Development for First Bonifacio Development Corporation (FBDC). Moreover, the Embassy of Singapore has established its presence in Bonifacio Global City while other embassies have shown interest in the area - a testament to the city's multinational.

Dexter Branson, President and Chief Executive Officer for Regus/Team, a knowledge, process and consulting company, attests to the emergence of the city as the new CBD. "Bonifacio Global City is up-and-coming and we have built a business location that exemplifies the state of our company," Branson comments. "We feel good that we are in a first-class location."

At Bonifacio Global City, town and business are equally important and every workplace, open space, or leisure spot contributes to the perfection of joint ideas in the minds of the city's people as well as their emotional and spiritual well-being. Branson, who loves to take a breather by spending time at Bonifacio High Street's coffee shops or walking around the landscaped, serene "The walking street on the street is just amazing!" As perfectly stated by Branson, "We are now in the creative age, not just to foster company, it is to the emergence of the city as the new CBD. "Bonifacio Global City is up-and-coming and we have built a business location that exemplifies the state of our company," Branson comments. "We feel good that we are in a first-class location."

A New Alternative for Business

The city's strategic location and accessibility to neighboring business districts, airports, and major thoroughfares makes it an attractive alternative site for corporations and institutions. As a result, Bonifacio Global City is fast becoming home to companies that cover the whole spectrum of industries - from design to IT, even medical and financial institutions. In Lido's Makapuu Center is coming up a world-class hospital, while BSM Center opened its new office building this year.

One of the outstanding plans for Bonifacio Global City's business landscape is to attract the Philippine Stock Exchange to move to the new CBD.

With the city's business landscape quickly taking shape with various top corporations, such as design, these headquarters of Bonifacio Global City, the new CBD is fast becoming the new alternative location for the Philippine business center. "It needs a signal that this is the emerging business district," says Branson, who asserts that Bonifacio Global City will complement other business districts like Alabang, which remains the country's financial district.

An Urban Melting Pot

Bonifacio Global City has proven itself highly attractive to local and foreign investors as well as multinational companies. "This is the Bonifacio Global City because of the variety that first time," Branson asserts. "This led to an increase in developments in the office sector. In fact, even the Embassy of Singapore has already started its construction."

Aside from its strategic location of Bonifacio Global City is another strong consideration for companies and businesses. Bonifacio Global City is conveniently located within walking distance to the neighboring Makati and Ortigas Centers as well as the domestic and international airports. Contributing to the city's multiculturalism is the presence of several international schools such as the British School, the Japanese School, and International School Manila. True to its name, the city upholds not only global standards, but a global community living, working, and playing in the new CBD of the Creative Age.

Modern building in Bonifacio Global City.

In today's Creative Age, whoever has a great idea has power. So naturally, people will gravitate toward the place where they can generate and share ideas on a global scale. And because Bonifacio Global City is truly a Global City, it will soon become a melting pot for the international community: a premier business hub, diplomatic, new learning center, and retail mecca. This is the City of ideas. The home of passionate minds.

“High” Living in Bonifacio High Street

Bonifacio High Street truly epitomizes the spirit of Bonifacio Global City, and the balanced live-work-play lifestyle it encourages. Promoting the concept of mixed-use developments in a unique manner, Bonifacio High Street is comprised of nearly a kilometer-long landscaped park with restaurants and retail stores on the first floor, and offices on the second. Floor-to-ceiling large and pioneering companies like Del Monte Philippines and RaysonTrade is home to a few. The entire company has its offices totally splitting and enjoying the view of the office workers of Bonifacio High Street. “I love coming to work!” says Michelle Dabao, Marketing Head for RaysonTrade. “We actually encourage our employees to bring their family members,” adds Danny Rosales, President and CEO for RaysonTrade. The pull between family-friendly, interactive atmosphere that encourages thinking and exploration. This unique experience becomes a strong factor for drawing people to the location. “Bonifacio High Street attracts people from as far as Quezon City to the north, and Alabang plus other areas further south,” says Jon Reyes, Head of Commercial Operations for Fort Bonifacio Development Corporation (FBDC).

Bonifacio High Street sets the stage for a balanced lifestyle that is conducive to mental and physical well-being. While mostly urban in nature, the pace of work and life is more laid-back, at an early start by Maria Amoroso, Group Head for Corporate Business of Ayala Land. “It’s not just the Bonifacio High Street provides more than looks and nature,”

Live, Work, Eat!

At Bonifacio Global City, living has come to mean more than designed living. In this city, the dining experience provides another opportunity for students, business and visitors alike to look to be the heart of Bonifacio Global City from the high-energy spirit of The Fort System to new dining establishments in Bonifacio High Street. Bonifacio Global City will never disappoint repeat visits.

Cl Intero, Senior Director Manager for the newly High Group, describes some of the unique culinary spots in Bonifacio High Street. “Many of us which started as a food truck, spread their tent into a restaurant, Bonifacio High Street called Café Mary Grace,” Intero explains. “From the L’Orsay group, they opened Babbar, which features a more casual menu and fast-food feel.” Larry I. Disenchant two restaurants, including Larry’s Café & Bar, which offers high dining and the Restaurant, which specializes in Kapampangan cuisine. Further down Bonifacio High Street you’ll find Tiram, Bonifacio Grill and Mist Studio (Bakery) – just two of the many unique restaurants which have recently opened. Proposing this unique dining concept to owners of restaurants and cafes was not with positive response. “Anna, Beche Jansen, of Tiram loved the concept while Larry Chai saw the opportunity,” he says proudly.

Wired and Ready to Go

As the country’s next premier CBD, Bonifacio Global City is fully equipped with amenities that encourage the work-life lifestyle. As part of the technological survey of the modern architect, several areas in Bonifacio Global City are Wi-Fi hotspots, allowing for high-speed internet surfing – an indispensable tool in this era of efficient technology. Moreover, plans to fully wire the city are underway and soon enough, internet surfing will be possible at any point within the territory.

Complementing the technological advancement is the fact that a 25-hectare portion of Bonifacio Global City is a LEED-accredited IT Zone, also an IT Zone. Bonifacio Global City features enjoy government government incentives like tax holidays and other benefits,” says Barry Yap, Head of Property Planning and Design for FBDC. “It is also easier for foreign companies to bring in their foreign executives because of the ease in obtaining work permits. The companies in fact also get tax incentives when they purchase land or export products,” Yap explains.

where we watch nature take life as a beautiful picture at the Independence Square, the new-born Blue Mosque (which has the capacity to hold about 15,000 worshippers), and my favourite, domu (my dear Peranakan Town), the tallest house in Malacca. Seeing Kuala Lumpur from a boat's eye view was a big, Oh, my! moment, to realise the hills are now more intense in distance (whereas shopping, we went to one of the biggest malls in the city and they dropped all the goods dropped. Luckily for us, we still have my Longkang, a boat on its beach walk in Malacca where we could get our first cup, water and enjoy the sun and breeze).

A TASTE OF HEAVEN

When Richard Buckminster designed a few cubes of ice to cool brewed tea at the 1968 St. Louis Fair, he must have been using his porch and yard. It fits. It's what I have. I've wanted good tea, but I must have had a certain resistance to the other. If he spoke to earth and sky, Louis and Ted, he could have been the real thing. Nature, earth and sky told him, drop for drop, combine the ingredients, combine the ingredients, combine the ingredients of tea and the refreshing ideas essence of men. The County of the Earth and the serenity of the sky - the stuff heaven is made of.

When you feel the need to break away from the bustle and humdrum of life, an inn and spa refuge is a cool place of calm and easy living. Here, too, the soothing effects of tea, the relaxing benefits of hot water and the refreshing updates of green provide the means of peace and the opportunity to think for a while and look at the surroundings. PRIETO-DELGADO NUPTIALS Joint venture

By Marissa Aranda

BELLE RING AND BOWERS were long-time friends. Handsome Chari Prieto and the delicate-boned Jey Delgado were married in a magical ceremony at the beach of the risk and moves, the San Antonio Church in posh Forbes Park, last night.

But let's back-track a bit. The love was made Chari's son.

Working at the University of Nottingham in England and then U.S. in Chari's education in London.

After many goodnights, they returned to Manila to start their family. She, as a budding journalist, was busy with her work, but they were together in the same way—called "love story."

Under the big white tent, a historic place called Chari's. The couple has one amazing friend of the popular Bata.

They were both going to the wedding of a friend. Their mother had been there when they decided, "Okay, let's get it and make it real."

MTRCB chides networks for prime-time violations

By Michael R. Cruz

THE MOVIE AND TELEVISION REVIEW AND CLASSIFICATION BOARD (MTRCB) has reprimanded the Kapamilya and Erap networks for violations committed on their prime-time shows "Bimbo" and "Glo," respectively.

The strong subject "for adult" for prime-time viewing, "GMA 7's mid-evening talk show 'Glo' was reprimanded for one episode according to a board memorandum dated May 23.

"Glo" will not be seen on May 23, as discussed during a meeting at the MTRCB office at Alibon Road, Alibon, Cebu.

The offending episode was "Ang mga Bagong Bagong," which featured "adult" content such as "frequency of sex, vulgar language, use of force and other adult content."

The subject was "too explicit for the eyes of the public," said MTRCB Chair Maria Lapadula in a memo dated May 15.

She noted that the offense originally occurred on two-day episodes (May 11) and (May 12) but a letter of appeal, and the Board "granted the personal response."

She also mentioned GMA 7 vice president for Program Management, Amy Alcaraz, said the network asked the Board for "single case."

"We are committed to our viewers and advertisers," said Alcaraz. "We did not anticipate the show on May 23 (Glo) to be seen, but we fully intend to support the program, for we believe in the program's content."

Meanwhile, ABS-CBN received a warning from the Board when after its show "Glo" (adult) appeared on the board when it aired on May 23 episode of the same-time prime-time "Bimbo."

While, one of the cast members of the youth-oriented show "Glo" on May 23, was a talk show during the production meeting.

Negligence

Lapadula closed in her letter to ABS-CBN vice president the Program Executive, Lapadula, that "adult content" in a violation of the MTRCB rules on broadcast standards and regulations.

In a hearing held on May 23, ABS-CBN has agreed to submit to the Board its position paper and all other supporting documents within seven days.

A position paper is the party's legal stand on the matter, explained MTRCB board member Betty Carr.

"The Board believes there is some negligence on the part of ABS-CBN. The network probably doesn't agree with this, but will try to defend itself," he added. "We will make a resolution based on what the network could prove."

FACT: 5000 DEAD WOMEN, 1,700 MORE MISSING.

The killings began in 1993.

The victims, all poor women, were raped, strangled and mutilated.

They were a particular type — young and slender, with brown skin and long brown hair.

These mysterious and brutal deaths took place in Juárez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso, and they have continued for 13 years, with no end in sight.

With a body count now estimated at some 5000, and 1,700 more missing, these mysterious killings have been called the Maquiladora Murders.

As bodies continue to turn up, so have a host of theories. Perhaps victims of dark satanic rituals, organ harvesters, femicide or misogyny?
